

Ayrshire Electronics Receives Nadcap Accreditation for Electronics Assembly

Nadcap recognizes Ayrshire Electronics of Oakdale, MN for its commitment to continual improvement in aerospace quality

August 26, 2011

Ayrshire Electronics announces that it has received Nadcap accreditation for Electronics.

Nadcap (formerly NADCAP, the National Aerospace and Defense Contractors Accreditation Program) is a global cooperative standards-setting program for aerospace and defense manufacturing.

Commenting on the noteworthy achievement, Ayrshire Chairman & CEO Milo D. Bryant said, "Building upon our AS9100C certification, I am very proud of the Ayrshire/Minnesota team for achieving the pinnacle of aerospace and defense electronics manufacturing quality as recognized by our Nadcap accreditation".

Ayrshire received Nadcap accreditation for demonstrating their ongoing commitment to quality by satisfying customer requirements and industry specifications.

"Achieving Nadcap accreditation is not easy: it is one of the ways in which the aerospace industry identifies those who excel at manufacturing quality product through superior special processes. Companies such as Ayrshire Electronics work hard to obtain this status and they should be justifiably proud of it," said Joe Pinto, Vice President and Chief Operating Officer at the Performance Review Institute. "PRI is proud to support continual improvement in the aerospace industry by helping companies such as Ayrshire Electronics be successful and we look forward to continuing to assist the industry moving forward."
